Counting down to the Insurance Times Awards

We were excited to be announced as finalists in the Business Partner of the Year category of the Insurance Times Awards last month. It has been a busy few weeks completing the final round of judging but we are so proud to see how far we have come.

We now look forward to joining our peers at the Award dinner next month and take a moment to reflect on a successful 2022.

GK CEO Sara Ager joined Peter Mansfield on this Insurance Covered to discuss the importance of the role of insurance consultants.

- Do they have a role?
- Could we even be entering a golden age for insurance consultancy?
- Is the partnership model likely to become increasingly important as more and more insurtechs and start-ups become involved in insurance?

Is Consumer Duty on your agenda in 2023?

As another year comes to a close, and we look towards 2023, are you ready to implement your plans?

Consumer Duty is going to remain a hot topic and challenges will arise, so it's important to have the right team in your corner to help you drive action.

If you have any questions around Consumer Duty, reach out to the GK team now.

How innovative can insurance be when it comes to problem solving? watch our Vlog to find out.

Team GK's Shân Millie talks to Kayna Innovation CEO & Co-founder Paul Predergast about his new venture and his passion for Insurance Innovation.
